the cotton market yesterday for all options extreme irregularity characterized the fluctuations. The opening was slightly below that of Wednesday, but cotton was well taken at the decline, and by I o'clock price had advanced fully 20 points to new high levels, after which there was a break in th low level of the morning, with some option even breaking still further. The rally a the close was unimportant and left the market at a small net change for the day.
Bull support was largely responsible fo the strength, while the decline was cause less tavorable reports concerning th Austro-Servian controversy, coupled wit rumors that the National Ginners Associa tion had estimated the amount of cotto ginned to December 1 at 11,800,000 bales. This would indicate 1,500,000 bales ginned for the period, or fully as much as was ginnelast year between November 14 and Decem Such an outturn from the gins doe not match very well with the estimates of 13.600.000 bales and below.

The week end figures were moderately bearish, as the into sight for the week was 865,000 bales, against 652,000 last year, while spinners' takings were 442,000, against 447,000

Liverpool cabled: "Enormous liquidation since Wednesday all absorbed. Think sellers will try to force technical decline. If they fail, extremely strong bull market. We remain quite bullish."

Memphis wired: "The more I investigate this crop the more I am convinced it is the most surprising ever known. In two weeks there has been little or nothing offered from the interior. Merchants have sold and shipped everything and cotton will be hard to buy. Don't think I am crazy, but cotton will go higher than any one anticipates.

THE GRAIN MARKETS.

Wheat Lower Despite Higher Cables -Contradictory Reports From Argentina - Peace Rumora -Corn Also Lower.

Wheat declined in spite of some factors in the news which seemed to make for better prices. For instance, Liverpool, Antwerp, Budapest and Berlin were higher. Buenos Ayres showed no decline. Servia was rumored to be making preparations for war with Austria. Turkey was said to have declined Servia's terms of peace. At one time there were reports of damage to the Argentine crop owing to wet weather. The advance in Liverpool was due to rains in Argentina. Yet on the other hand the trading in wheat was comparatively small. The moderate export business was chiefly in Manitoba wheat. The stock at Minne-apolls has increased during the week 1,400,-000 bushels. The receipts at the Northwest were liberal. The prospects of winter wheat in this conutry are considered very favorable. Later reports from a Argentina were to the effect that the weather was better. Emphasis was laid on the big crop movement in this country and the lack of enap in the export trade.. The grain trade snap in the export trade. The grain trade receipts were 25,000 bags, aga finally got the idea too that whatever the last year. Prices were as follows reports to the contrary the outlook for peace in southeastern Europe was favorable Call money was up to 20 per cent. Some think that although liquidation has been of a pretty thoroughgoing sort during the last few weeks, it would not be surprising if there was more to come. This might, it is argued, exert a noticeably depressing effect on prices, especially as the closing of navigation is not far off and the cash demand does not materially in crease even at lower prices. However this may be, the market certainly declined very noticeably, although there was a moderate rally toward the close owing to liquifriendly to corn than they were awhile ago. The professional traders were the largest buyers of the day, though some of the commission houses do not see in the present duiness of the cash trade much reason for the advance, especially as the crop is admittedly large. Others, how-ever, think that present prices are low enough. Not a few houses now incline to the policy of buying on reactions. Some call attention to the decreased supplies in Argentina and the existing abnormal premiums in European markets. They hink that nothing would be less surprising than a big export trade, something ndeed that might tax the facilities of rail-

HEAVY GINNING EXPECTED roads to handle it. Yet large interests were sellers. Certain big operators are bearish. But Liverpool and Buenos Ayres prices were higher and, as already in-timated, there is an undercurrent of bullish sentiment. The final prices were firm. Oats declined in sympathy with other grain but rallied before the close. The feature of the day was the liquidation of December contracts. The lack of ship-December contracts. The new or ping demand was also an adverse feature, traders bought. There were no striking

CONGESTION ON FIFTH AVENUE.

Garment Workers Seek to Lessen It During Lunch Hour.

The executive officers of the Federation of Jewish Organizations, having learned the views of the leaders of the principal labor unions in the garment trades as to cooperation in a plan to lessen the congestion on the footpaths along Fifth avenue during the noon lunch hour blockade, decided vesterday to seek the cooperation of the Fifth Avenue Association and the employers.

It was decided yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the officers of the federation to arrange a meeting to-day in the office of Edward Lauterbach, chairman of its advisory ecmmittee, with committees of the federation and the Fifth Avenue Association, to which the two largest manufacturers will be asked to send representatives to arrange a system of cooperation. Mr. Bonar. managing director of the federation, managing director of the federation, said that he has decided on a plan which he will submit at the conference.

"My plan is," he said, "to have, say, one-third of the workers go for lunch at 11:30 A. M., returning to their factories or shops an hour later; one-third to go for lunch at noen and the remaining third to go for lunch at 12:30 P. M. This would distribute the people better. The labor men I have seen say they would like the change, but the employers would have to bring it about."
